

A Cruise along the Irrawaddy River visiting Mingun and Ava

Mandalay

Gazing on a ruined stupa monuments in historical cities Ava and Mingun of Burmese kingdoms by the authentic river cruise and picnic lunch onboard.

Mandalay and the other ancient imperial capitals in the region all prospered over the centuries, because they lay on the Irrawaddy River, an important waterway for commerce and transport. On this tour, your guide will pick you up from your hotel and head for the jetty in Mandalay. We first take a leisurely cruise upstream to Mingun town, home to a ruined stupa monument. We then cruise downstream toward Ava, an ancient capital belonging to successive Burmese kingdoms between the 14th and 19th centuries. On the way, we enjoy a simple picnic lunch, prepared in advance. A horse and cart is waiting for you in Ava to take you around this magnificent former capital, home to a number of
