

Trains and Markets

Bangkok

Explore vibrant markets both alongside railway tracks and floating on water. Observe the stalls laden with fresh produce and sample some delicious treats along the way.

Get an early start and head to Maeklong Train Market located right on the tracks of an active railway line. Listen for the sounds of the slow approaching train and watch as the market stall holders rush to remove their goods from the tracks and fold down their canopies. Continue to Amphawa on the Maeklong River, and the weekend floating market. Spend time exploring and identifying the fruits, vegetables, herbs on sale and sample some of the incredible variety of food that the floating market is famous for. Return to Bangkok and stop en route at a family operated coconut palm sugar factory.
