

Speedboat to Ang Thong Marine Park

Koh Samui

Take a speedboat across the waters of the Gulf of Thailand towards a group of islands that form the marine park and spend time exploring the strange formations.

Meet your crew and fellow travelers at Nathon Pier and whizz towards Ang Thong National Marine Park. Be in awe of an archipelago of 42 mainly uninhabited islands of various shapes and sizes with rugged steep limestone hills covered in forest. Appreciate the stunning scenery that is believed to have inspired the well known novel, The Beach, written by Alex Garland in 1996. Spend time relaxing on the beach, swimming or making the steep and strenuous ascent to a viewpoint for a spectacular vista over all the islands.
